Beyond Level 4 – ATC is an innovative online e-learning package that develops high level language skills for air traffic controllers. With extensive experience developing and delivering language materials for the aviation industry, RMIT recognises the need to provide e-learning materials that allow for flexible study options, minimising the impact on work/training schedules.

Flexible delivery options: participants complete the online activities without the need to attend intensive classes. The course is designed to allow participants to study independently in their own time or in group sessions. Tasks are submitted to a database so that performance can be monitored by instructors. Performance reports are generated which then inform instructor-led sessions, allowing participants to receive feedback and customised language support.

Engaging Content: Beyond Level 4 - ATC develops proficiency in plain English for communication in both radiotelephony and face-to-face situations, in line with the ICAO Language Proficiency Requirements. There are over 200 learning activities across eight units, each based on a different ATC safety-related topic. Content is based on authentic ATC and flight scenarios. A wide range of engaging activities are included to ensure participants remain motivated and achieve their learning goals. Tasks make use of radar animations, flight simulations and interactive work-based role-plays.
